Termite Control

Termites are social insects that build colonies and feed on dead plant materials. These are one of the most destructive wooden pests in the world. We offer treatment that will keep your place away from termites. Termites, also commonly known as white ants, destroy valuable property, documents, furniture, paper, books and even currency notes... any thing that contains cellulose, silently and swiftly, before you even become aware of the damage done. Termites infest and breed underground, in the soil. They crawl up through the minute cracks and crevices in the foundation and the walls of your building. As they march forward, they build mud channels to provide themselves with darkness and higher humidity which they require to survive. When you notice such marks on your walls it is an indication that your place is under attack by termites.
